1. Policy Statement & Principles

Safeguarding children is the responsibility of everyone. NLPAC recognises its responsibility to safeguard and promote the welfare of children within the legal framework of the Children Acts 1989 and 2004.

We are aware that many children and young people are the victims of different kinds of abuse and that they can be subjected to social factors that have an adverse impact upon their lives – including domestic violence, substance misuse, bullying, child prostitution and ritualistic abuse. We aim to create a safe environment within which children and young people can thrive and adults can work with the security of clear guidance.

Under the terms of the Children Act 2004 anyone under the age of 19 is considered to be a child/young person.

These guidelines are for the use of all paid staff, volunteers and visitors. We will make them available to the parents and carers of the children and young people to whom we offer a service. Through them, we will endeavor to ensure that:

- Children and young people are listened to, valued and respected
- Staff are aware of the need to be alert to the signs of abuse and know what to do with their concerns
- All paid and unpaid staff are subject to rigorous recruitment procedures
- All paid and unpaid staff are given appropriate support and training
- All paid and unpaid staff hold a current DBS check.

All child protection concerns should be acted upon immediately. If you are concerned that a child might be at risk or is actually suffering abuse, you should tell the Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL) within your organisation.

Designated Safeguarding Lead is: Emily Byron

Telephone number: 020 8444 4544

If the designated officer is not available, speak to a senior member of staff.

In an emergency situation, contact a social worker directly:

Haringey Child Protection - Haringey Single Point of Access (SPA)

- 020 8489 4470 during office hours
(Monday to Thursday 8.45am to 5pm; Friday 8.45am to 4.45pm)

Or:

- 020 8489 0000 Out of Office hours (5.00pm – 9.00am including weekdays and weekends) for the Emergency Out of Hours Duty Team
Please only use this number if you are calling outside normal working hours. When ringing out of hours your call will be logged by our local call centre who will take brief details. An Emergency Duty social worker will ring you back. Do not use this number if a child needs immediate assistance from the Police or Ambulance Services. In these cases call 999.

To contact the Haringey Child Protection Officers call 020 8489 2126

2. Recognising signs of abuse

It can often be difficult to recognise abuse. The signs listed in these guidelines are only indicators and many can have reasonable explanations. Children may behave strangely or seem unhappy for many reasons, as they move through the stages of childhood or their families experience changes. It is nevertheless important to know what could indicate that abuse is taking place and to be alert to the need to consult further.

Someone can abuse a child by actively inflicting harm or by failing to act to prevent harm. Abuse can take place within a family, in an institutional or community setting, by telephone or on the internet. Abuse can be carried out by someone known to a child or by a complete stranger.

If you are worried about a child it is important that you keep a written record of any physical or behavioural signs and symptoms. In this way you can monitor whether or not a pattern emerges and provide evidence to any investigation if required.

Physical Abuse

Physical abuse can involve hitting, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning, scalding, drowning and suffocating. It can also result when a parent or carer deliberately causes the ill health of a child in order to seek attention. This is called fabricated illness or Munchausen's Syndrome by Proxy. Symptoms that indicate physical abuse include:

- Bruising in or around the mouth, on the back, buttocks or rectal area
- Finger mark bruising or grasp marks on the limbs or chest of a small child
- Bites
- Burn and scald marks e.g. small round burns that could be caused by a cigarette
- Fractures to arms, legs or ribs in a small child
- Large numbers of scars of different sizes or ages

Emotional Abuse

Emotional abuse happens when a child's need for love, security, praise and recognition is not met. It usually co-exists with other forms of abuse. Emotionally abusive behaviour occurs if a parent, carer or authority figure is consistently hostile, rejecting, threatening or undermining. It can also result when children are prevented from social contact with others, or if developmentally inappropriate expectations are imposed upon them. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of someone else. Symptoms that indicate emotional abuse include:

- Excessively clingy or attention-seeking behavior
- Very low self-esteem or excessive self-criticism
- Excessively withdrawn behaviour or fearfulness; a 'frozen watchfulness'
- Despondency
- Lack of appropriate boundaries with strangers; too eager to please
- Eating disorders

Neglect

Neglect is the persistent failure to meet a child's basic physical and/or psychological needs, causing damage to their health and development. It may involve a parent or carer failing to provide adequate food, shelter or clothing, failing to protect a child from harm or danger, or failing to access appropriate medical care and treatment when necessary. It can exist in isolation or in combination with other forms of abuse. Symptoms of physical and emotional neglect can include:

- Inadequate supervision; being left alone for long periods of time
- Lack of stimulation, social contact or education
- Inadequate nutrition, leading to ill-health
- Constant hunger; stealing or gorging food
- Failure to seek or to follow medical advice such that a child's life or development is endangered
- Inappropriate clothing for conditions

Sexual Abuse

Sexual abuse involves forcing or enticing a child or young person to take part in sexual activities, whether or not the child is aware of what is happening. This may include physical contact, both penetrative and non-penetrative; or involve no contact, such as watching sexual activities or looking at pornographic material. Encouraging children to act in sexually inappropriate ways is also abusive. Under the Sexual Offences Act 2003, any sexual activity – contact or non-contact – with a child under the age of 13, is a crime. Symptoms of sexual abuse include:

- Allegations or disclosure
- Genital soreness, injuries or discomfort
- Sexually transmitted diseases; urinary infections
- Excessive preoccupation with sexual matters; inappropriately sexualised play, words or drawing
- A child who is sexually provocative or seductive with adults
- Repeated sleep disturbances through nightmares and/or wetting

Older children and young people may additionally exhibit:

- Depression
- Drug and/or alcohol abuse
- Eating disorders; obsessive behaviours
- Self-harming; suicide attempts
- School/peer/relationship problems

Some members of our communities hold beliefs that may be common within particular cultures but which are against the law in England. NLPAC does not condone practices that are illegal or harmful to children. Examples of particular practices are:

Forced Marriages

No faith supports the idea of forcing someone to marry without their consent. This should not be confused with arranged marriages between consenting adults.

Underage Marriages

In England, a young person cannot legally marry or have a sexual relationship until they are 16 years old or more.

Female Circumcision

This is against the law yet we know that for some in our communities it is considered a religious act and a cultural requirement. It is also illegal for someone to arrange for a child to go abroad with the intention of having her circumcised.

Ritualistic Abuse

Some faiths believe that spirits and demons can possess people (including children). What should never be condoned is the use of any physical violence to get rid of the possessing spirit. This is physical abuse and people can be prosecuted even if it was their intention to help the child.

3. What to do with your concerns?

In the event that a child makes an allegation or disclosure of abuse against an adult or another child or young person, it is important that you:

- Listen to them and/or closely observe their presentation and behaviour
- Let them know that you take what they are saying seriously
- Do not attempt to question or interview them yourself;
- Let them know that you will need to tell someone else in order to help them. Do not promise to keep what they tell you secret
- Inform your designated child protection officer as soon as possible
- Make a written record of the incident or events

Sometimes you may just feel concerned about a child but do not know whether to share your concerns or not. In this situation you should always raise your concerns with your designated child protection officer, who will help you to decide what to do.

The responsibility for investigating allegations of abuse, whether they result from the disclosure of a child or the concerns of an adult, lies with social workers (Haringey Children's Service) and the Police Child Abuse Investigation Team (CAIT). It is normally the responsibility of the designated child protection officer to make a referral to these agencies, but if you judge the situation to be an emergency and/or you require urgent advice in the absence of the designated officer, you must report your concerns directly, using the contacts listed at the back of these guidelines. The Children's Service also employs Child Protection Advisors (CPAs), who you can contact in office hours for further specialist guidance. Contact numbers for the CPAs are included in section 7.

The Duty social worker or CPA will advise you when or whether to inform the child's parents or carers about any concerns. If they decide to pursue a child protection investigation, you should:

- Work closely and collaboratively with all professionals involved in the investigation, in order to keep the child safe.
- Attend a child protection conference if you are invited. You will be asked to provide information about your involvement with the child, which is why it is important to keep records of your concerns.
- Attend any subsequent child protection review conferences.

4. Allegations made against staff or volunteers

Organisations that work or come into contact with children and young people need to be aware of the possibility that allegations of abuse will be made against members of their staff. Allegations will usually be that some kind of abuse has taken place. They can be made by children and young people and they can be made by other concerned adults. Allegations can be made for a variety of reasons. Some of the most common are:

- Abuse has actually taken place.
- Something happens to a child that reminds them of an event that happened in the past – the child is unable to recognise that the situation and the people are different.
- Children can misinterpret your language or your actions because they are reminded of something else.
- Some children know how powerful an allegation can be; if they are angry with you about something they can make an allegation as a way of hitting out.

- An allegation can be a way of seeking attention.

All allegations should be brought to the notice of Emily Byron (DSL) immediately. In cases where the allegation is made against this person, the complainant should approach a more senior official or take the following action him or herself:

- Make sure that the child in question is safe and away from the alleged abuser
- Contact the Children's Service Referral & Assessment Team relevant to where the child lives (see section 9)
- Contact the parents or carers of the child if advised to do so by the social worker/officer in charge of allegations
- Irrespective of any investigation by social workers or the police, you should follow the appropriate disciplinary procedure: common practice is for the alleged abuser to be suspended from work until the outcome of any investigation is clear
- Consider whether the person has access to children anywhere else and whether those organisations or groups need to be informed
- Act upon the decisions made in any strategy meeting

All incidents should be investigated internally after any external investigation has finished, to review organisational practice and put in place any additional measures to prevent a similar thing from happening again.

5. Safe recruitment

The application of rigorous procedures for the recruitment of any staff who come into contact with children, both directly and indirectly, can reduce the likelihood of allegations of abuse being made that are founded. As an absolute minimum, the following standards should be followed:

- All prospective workers (paid and unpaid) should complete an application form which asks for details of their previous employment and for the names of two referees.
- All prospective workers (paid and unpaid) should have a new Disclosure & Barring Service (DBS) check before they start employment – anyone who refuses to do so should not be employed.
- All prospective workers (paid and unpaid) should be interviewed to establish previous experience of working in an environment where there is contact with children and perceptions of acceptable behavior.
- Nobody should start work before references have been received. Referees should be reminded that references should not misrepresent the candidate or omit to say things that might be relevant to their employment.
- All appointments to work with children should be subject to an agreed probationary period.
- New members of staff should be clear about their responsibilities and, wherever possible, work to an agreed job description.
- These guidelines should be available to everyone and fully discussed as part of an induction process.

6. Good practice

To meet and maintain our responsibilities towards students, an agreed standard of good practice is followed. This good practice includes the following points:

- All staff working with children should receive regular supervision from a more experienced staff member and be encouraged to attend basic child protection training.
- No member of staff should be left alone with a child where they cannot be observed by others. Should a child need to be spoken to in confidence, a room with a windowed door should be used and a colleague informed of the intended interview.
- Under no circumstances should visitors be allowed to wander around the premises unaccompanied in areas where children and young people are present.
- Where possible there should always be at least two adults present with a group of children.
- If a child is not collected after a session it is reasonable to wait approximately half an hour for a parent or carer to arrive. If the parent or carer cannot be contacted, staff should contact the relevant Children & Families Duty Team or the police and request assistance.

Outings & Trips

- All vehicles hired for outings must be insured, roadworthy and fitted with seatbelts
- All drivers should travel with at least one escort. Escorts should have up to date DBS checks and have been subject to appropriate recruitment procedures. All escorts should agree to abide by these guidelines;
- Roll call will be taken at the start of a journey and again before commencing the return journey
- Staff accompanying trips will carry the contact numbers for the parents/carers, home organisation and emergency services in the event of an alert being necessary
- If a child goes missing while on a trip, staff should instigate an immediate search. If the child cannot be found within half an hour, the appropriate security staff and the police should be notified
- If, having notified security staff and the police, the child cannot be found, the parents/carers of the child will be notified immediately;
- The care of the remaining children is paramount. It is imperative that they return to the home site as quickly as possible, while a senior staff member remains at the visit site to coordinate contact between security staff and the child's parents/carers.

Use of premises by other organisations

- In the event that a room or rooms on the premises are used by other organisations, the hire agreement should ensure that the hiring organisation works to approved child protection procedures and/or that they read and agree to abide by these guidelines.

7. Code of behaviour & responsibilities

People working at our organisation must always observe the following requirements where children, young people or similarly vulnerable people are concerned.

- Physical Contact - when physical contact is necessary (first-aid administration, dance teaching, practical guidance in lessons, peripatetic music teaching for example), ask permission to touch the child. Remember, touch must be for the child's benefit.
- Corporal punishment is prohibited. Staff & Teachers should adhere to the centre's positive reinforcement guidelines.
- Avoid becoming personally involved with students and their families. This could lead to accusations of favouritism or undue pressure being applied by the family.
- Document uncomfortable situations that may be misinterpreted (e.g. letters of 'adoration' from pupil to teacher, inappropriate conversations, social media) inform DSL/line manager.
- Under no circumstances should a teacher disclose personal information to their students or take personal information about their students. This includes telephone numbers, addresses, email addresses, and social networking sites. Teachers must not accept invitations from students to join their social networking site. Contact with students outside of the centre without prior arrangement through NLPAC is strictly prohibited and could result in termination of your employment without further notice.
- Ensure that content and themes of drama, dance and singing performances are appropriate for a school setting and appropriate to the age group of the students who are performing.
- Teachers must report any signs of abuse or implied abuse through any choreography or devising practical work students create or coursework created by the students.
- Teachers should ensure any music used in dance or singing class or material in drama classes is suitable for the age group of the students. Music lyrics and scripts should not contain any sexual, violent or political content or anything of an offensive nature.

Dos and Don'ts for Working with Children

DO:

- Behave professionally
- Listen to children
- Treat everyone with respect
- Communicate at an appropriate level
- Be aware of policy and procedures
- Report any suspicions within our guidelines
- Be aware, approachable and understanding

DO NOT:

- Harm a child or frighten a child
- Touch inappropriately
- Use inappropriate language
- Threaten, shout or be aggressive
- Force a child to do something they do not want to do
- Mistreat, demean, ignore, or make fun of
- Show favouritism to any one individual or groups of individuals
- Let a child expose him/herself to danger
- Make racist, sexist or any other remark which upset or humiliate

- Take photos of children without permission

You have a strict duty never to subject any child to any form of harm or abuse. Failure to adhere to these procedures will be treated as gross misconduct.

8. Safeguarding children in Haringey

Haringey Local Safeguarding Children Board (LSCB) is responsible for coordinating the arrangements made by different local organisations to safeguard and promote the welfare of children. Haringey Association of Voluntary and Community Organisations (HAVCO) represent the interests of voluntary sector and community groups on the LSCB. The LSCB will also approach individual organisations as and when their advice and experience in particular areas could be valuable to the production of guidance or information to the public.

The LSCB coordinates multi-agency training programs on child protection related topics; it is recommended that all designated child protection officers and senior officials attend one or more of these courses to gain the knowledge necessary to be able to offer advice and consultancy within your organisation.
